Owing to delay in floating the city debtors 400 men were laid off this morning in Edmonton. They were employed on the sewers and water works and while work is not altogether suspended on these undertakings they are being run with smaller gangs. The result is causing only temporary inconvenience as it is likely that many of the men may be employed in cutting for the big lumber companies when they get permission from the Department of the Interior to get supplies from government lands.

(Special to the Chronicle)
Hamilton, June 24.—It is reported today that despite repeated refusals, E. D. Smith, M.P. for Wentworth County has again bowed to the appeals of his constituents and has consented to be a candidate at the next federal election. Mr. Smith is a large fruit grower and manufacturer of E. D. Smith's jams and jellies and the ablest farmer member in the House of Commons. He represented Wentworth County, one of the thirty-manipulated Ontario constituencies and notwithstanding that the redistribution created an adverse majority against him of over 500, he was elected at the late bye election by a majority of 15, but the recent show marked and the judge gave Smith the seat. Smith appealed and carried the case to the Supreme Court which decided that the election must be held over again with the result that Smith won out.

Hod Stuart Drowned

Belleville, Ont., June 23.—Wm. Hodgson Stuart, known throughout Canada as Hod Stuart, celebrated hockey and lacrosse player, was killed here this afternoon. He was the eldest son of William Stuart of Ottawa, a well known contractor, and has been here for some weeks assisting his father on the new drill shed in this city. He was in his 28th year. Besides parents he leaves a widow and two small children. He swam out to the light house, a distance of one hundred yards. Reaching the building he climbed up the steps and then dived from the railing. He alighted on his head on a pile of rocks three feet beneath the surface and never came up. His companions did not see him dive, but heard the splash and thinking he was swimming took under water, paid no further attention for some time. Not seeing him appear they gave the alarm, but before he was found it was nearly half an hour. His body was seen on the bottom in three feet of water. The coroner pronounced death to have been instantaneous, the skull being broken and his skull was fractured and face cut where he came in contact with the rocks. He deemed an inquest unnecessary. The remains were taken to the undertaking rooms and sent to Ottawa for interment.

Railway Map Of Canada.

Ottawa, June 22.—Mr. James White, Geographer to the Department of the Interior, has completed an interesting railway map of Canada. It is on a scale of 100 miles to the inch and so is of considerable size. Five of the principal through systems are shown in colors and with an elaborate system of notations to show the lines in operation, under construction and located. In addition a table of railway statistics is printed on the margin covering the more important headings of information on Canadian railways. The information to be brought down to 1906, and in some cases up to 1907, so that it is unusually up-to-date. The progress shown, and the project under way, are both astonishing.

Bad Wreck At Pittsburg

Pittsburg, Pa., June 23.—A train map was killed and ten passengers were injured, three fatally, late today when the New York and Pennsylvania train No. 156 on the Monongahela and Youngstown division of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railways was wrecked in the yard in the foot of South Twenty-first street. A defective switch is thought to have caused the accident. The dead: Joseph Wright, conductor, West Newton, Pa., crushed to death. The injured: Wm. McGuire, farmer, Port Perry, Pa.; John Lantz, farmer, Allegheny, Pa.; condition serious; John C. Griffin, medical student, Towanda, Pa.; serious; Jas. Richards, Homestead, Pa.; T. J. Johnson, McKeesport, Pa.; Ralph Deary, McKeesport, Pa.; will die; B. M. Kellie, Pittsburg; John Shuman, Allegheny, Pa.; and Mrs. Mary Harding, McKeesport.

Coal Commission

On Saturday the coal commission heard evidence regarding conditions in the White Star mine, Strathcona. L. Martin, Pitt boss, and Patrick McManus and Edward Carpenter, miners, thought that the present mining regulations were satisfactory if properly enforced, although they thought it would be a good thing to have an eight hour day and compensation law. J. W. Blain, proprietor of the mine said it cost $4.50 in winter and $2.50 in summer to haul coal to Strathcona. It costs $1.25 to haul it to the siding now and from $75 to $1.00 in the winter. He favored having the miners insured but was opposed to a compensation law and thought men on day shifts should work nine hours.

Mr. Blain admitted that the coal dealers met and raised the price of coal to $4.50 per ton but claimed that the increase was justified by the increased cost. At present coal costs nearly $5 per ton delivered in Strathcona.

C.N.R. Adding to Equipment.

Winnipeg, Man., June 22.—Dr. H. Hanna, third vice-president and acting general manager of the Canadian Northern Railway, returned yesterday after a trip to Toronto and other eastern points. "There was nothing specially of public interest in my business," Mr. Hanna said. "Of course, as you are aware, an only filling the position of general manager temporarily, and I expect that a permanent appointment to this office will be announced shortly." Asked as to increased equipment for the road, Mr. Hanna said a number of locomotives were on order, and they had three new sleeping cars, the "Initiators," the "Dandies," and the "Saskatons," of the way new from Detroit, Ont., for Edmonton. For Arthur and Prince Albert service, also two dining cars and a cafe palace car, besides day coaches, mail, baggage and express cars for general service. Fifty ten hundred box cars have been constructed for the road, and a number of them are being delivered daily. We are also making a number of extensions in our siding capacity to better facilitate the handling of our growing business.

Life Prisoner Arrives.

Rife, the man sentenced for life for criminal assault on a small Galician girl at Calgary, passed through the city on Saturday on his way to the penitentiary at Kingston. He is accompanied by several officers of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. The prisoner is a degenerate looking colored man of the type that in South reaches short shrift for similar crimes to the one he perpetrated at Calgary. The utter absence of any demonstration as he passed to penalize for the balance of his life was testimony to the respect for the law that maintains in the western provinces of British Empire.

Believed To Be Drowned.

(Special to the Chronicle)
McDonald Clutes, Ont., June 24.—F. J. Thorpe, now of Cobalt but formerly of Belleville, and two companions went out in a canoe yesterday and did not return. The drowned canoe was afterwards found, but no trace of the men, and it is feared that they were drowned.

Trouble in France

Paris, June 23.—Owing to serious unrest all the ministerial functions in the immediate future have been cancelled including the dinner to be given by the French Chamber of Commerce on Monday, in honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. L. P. Brodeur, the Canadian ministers. The latest developments indicate that there is a good deal of politics mixed up in the disorders.

Had to Use Foreign Ships

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Despite its disinclination to do so, the navy Department has been obliged to enter into a contract with a New York brokerage firm for the shipment of American coal from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast in foreign bottoms. The amount of the shipments will aggregate between 15,000 and 20,000 tons each for the navy yard at Mare Island and the Puget Sound naval station at Bremerton, Wash. The department was unable to make contracts for the transfer of coal in American bottoms because of a lack of such ships.

Baseball.

Edmonton Lost One and Tied One.

Edmonton did not remain at the top of the league table long, for Calgary struck them in the afternoon game on Saturday and tied the evening game, bringing their percentage down. The score in the afternoon game was 6-3, but it was not until the eleventh inning, when the Capitals blew up, that it was decided. At the end of the sixth the tally read 3-3, and that was the story right up to the end of the tenth. Then Calgary punched up three while Edmonton were helpless. The evening game was called on account of darkness at the end of the ninth. It looked as though it might with fairness have been called at the end of the eighth, when it would have been a win for the Capitals, the score then being 7-5. Errors were numerous, especially on the Edmonton side.

CALGARY LOST TO EDMONTON

Toronto, June 23.—The Great Western Railway of England has settled with the estate of C. A. Pipon for $25,000, and with Mrs. E. L. King for $20,000 for death in the saluting wreck. Mrs. Barwick is suing for $150,000.

Football.

STRATHCONA CITY WINS

Saturday evening Strathcona City added another win to their list of victories when they defeated the Brackman-Ker team by 2-0. The game was a poor exhibition of football, and at times was rather swarthy. The Brackman-Ker team played a good game and were largely responsible for the low score against them. Holway notched the first goal for City on a long shot which completely fooled Kennedy and Jones was ready to score. The Brackman-Ker team had no better luck in their attack.

Canners Want Help.

Toronto, Ont., June 22.—Mr. Thos. Southworth, superintendent of colonization, has received from the Ontario Canners' Association an urgent request for help in connection with the canning industry. Farmers in which the children are of working age are most acceptable. In former years the canners have imported female help during the summer season from Buffalo and vicinity, and Mr. Southworth has suggested that female help could be secured in Toronto by advertising here. The department proposes to secure permanent agricultural employment for immigrant families, but the needs of the canners will not be overlooked.

Fushimi at The Coast

Vancouver, June 23.—This, the last day of H. I. H. Prince Fushimi's trip across Canada by the C.P.R., broke gloriously fine and the grandeur of the magnificent scenery of the Fraser Canyon was brought out in a manner that elicited delight from the whole party. The train arrived here sharp on time and this ended his highnoon journey by rail. Before leaving the train the prince and the entire party expressed not merely their thanks for but their delighted wonderment of the extraordinary comfort by the Canadian Pacific Railway and this feeling was given tangible expression to by beautiful presents to some of the officials, and money gifts to others, everyone on the train being remembered. Whilst here the party are the guests of the C.P.R. Co. at the Hotel Vancouver and one or two prominent residents have been invited to meet them at luncheon and dinner to-morrow. At thirteen-thirty commences the last link in the Canadian tour, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the prince and the entire party will be taken to the mouth of the Fraser, where the prince will arrive at seven-thirty.

Before leaving Glacier, the party witnessed a still further evidence of Prince Fushimi's kind heartiness and evident fondness for little children. Noticing a little girl on the platform, he walked to the rear of his car and beckoned the child to him, presenting her with a beautiful doll which he kept concealed behind him. The delight of the little one seemed to afford him much pleasure. Leaving Glacier on the train was halted at various points of special interest, the Albert Canyon gorge being among the chief, until darkness overtook us. At frequent intervals during the day working gangs of Japanese trackmen were passed every few minutes. They were lined up and stood uncovered while the train swept by. At Revelstoke a considerable number carrying British and Japanese flags formed up in the rear of the car. Cornwall and were addressed by the prince. The party retired early with the evident intention of breakfasting early this morning in order to enjoy the magnificent scenery along the Fraser river and see something of this wonderfully fertile district during the few hours of the afternoon. Dynamite Exploded.

Fernie, June 23.—No 6 prospect, Cook Creek, in which the explosion occurred yesterday resulting in the death of two and the injury of two others, was entered today and the cause of the explosion discovered. It appears that about one hundred feet from the entry and two hundred feet from the face a tool box was placed in which there was the best part of a tin of dynamite and a box of caps. The dynamite was lighted in the face of the entry, on going off must have in some way jarred the caps in the tool box, and set off the powder. No part of the entry was injured by the tool box, the air on the inside forming a cushion so that the whole force of the explosion was expended towards the mouth of the tunnel. An inquest will be held.

Another Live Wire Fatality

Toronto, June 23.—While engaged as a lineman at Toronto Junction Saturday morning Joseph McEvoy, a carpenter caught hold of two live wires and a current of 2,500 volts passed through his body, killing him instantly. The body hung on the wire in full view of hundreds until taken down by other linemen.

Rights of French Canadians

Winnipeg, June 23.—The annual parade of the St. Jean Baptiste Society and the function of blessing the bell for the new Sacred Heart church was characterized by a particularly strong address by Archbishop Langevin, who in dealing with the position which French Canadians occupied in the economy of the nation said that theirs were peculiar rights and that they should ask no privileges. The words who were being imported from Eastern Europe might ask for privileges, but French Canadians had been the first on the ground and when their rights were assimilated in matters of either language, schools, or religion, the basis of confederation were shaken. In Manitoba they had the right to the French language and Catholic schools when those rights were abridged if Catholics had not been law abiding there would have been blood shed. An address was presented to the archbishop by the society after which the bell for the new church was consecrated.

G. T. P. Will Not Acquire Other Lines

Montreal, June 22.—William Wainwright, General Assistant and Vice-President of the Grand Trunk Pacific, says there is absolutely no foundation for the reports from the West of the Great Northern turning over its present branch lines in the Canadian West to the Grand Trunk Pacific. Wainwright described the idea as so utterly impracticable that it must surely have got into the head of the writer through some physis illusion from another world, so little did it show an appreciation of actual railway conditions here.

Sunday Closing At Portland

Portland, June 22.—After remaining a dead letter on the statute book for forty-three years, an attempt will be made by the District Attorney of Multnomah county to put into operation the Sunday closing law. This week for the first time in the history of Portland experienced a dry Sunday.

By a provision of the Portland charter the law is nullified. Regarding this city, but, regardless of this, the attempt will be made to enforce it, and until their rights are judicially determined the saloons will remain closed on Sundays.

Don't Want War Ships.

Toronto, June 23.—With a view of maintaining peace between Canada and the United States a memorial was presented at the Toronto Methodist conference praying that the authorities at Ottawa and Washington be asked to discontinue their efforts to introduce warships on the great lakes. The memorial was signed by twelve great nations, and it is earnestly trusted that the project will be abandoned, and that the two great powers will live in peace and side by side in peace without menacing arms and armaments of war.

Earl Grey and All Red Line.

Ottawa, June 22.—Lord Grey was presented by the board of trade of Ottawa with a request that he lay before the British authorities a proposal to supplement the fast Atlantic Steamship line with an British cable encircling the globe. Earl Grey replied, said his recent visit to England was being such the Canadian premier in furthering the imperial steamship project and he congratulated the board on the fact that Laurier as their representative had been successful in impressing the authorities. The Governor-General had every confidence that when he established the All Red Line would give Canada a great advantage, her geographical position being such that mails would be sent in a direct line instead of round two sides of a triangle.

CANADIAN SENTIMENT

(Calgary Herald.)

One of the most noticeable and significant signs of the present decade is the growth of a national Canadian sentiment. The word "Canadian" expresses more than it ever did in our history; the development of a high national character. Nowhere is this advance in national thought and ideals more to be desired than in Western Canada, where in the nature of things the population is a cosmopolitan one composed of those born under many flags.

Forty years ago to all intents and purposes Canada represented a dependency and was not itself homogeneous. Today we no longer speak of upper and lower Canada. We are one nationality—Canadian—with two transcontinental railways, magnificent steamers, luminous elevators, provinces capable of being the granary of the world, and prosperous manufacturing interests of all kinds. We have made great strides since 1875. We think less these days of the societies which strove to keep up the old associations of England, Scotland and Ireland. Canada is cultivating ethics of its own. We have made a good start in literature and the growth of art and music are being seen.

upon whom lies the burden of helping the nation to a higher, broader and deeper national life. The leaders should be men of lofty character. They should represent rather the profound convictions than the interests of their political parties. A policy that gives to a few, great wealth from mines, lumber, lands, railways and other national resources and assets in which the many should also share can not and will not endure in this Canada of ours.

It is the feeling of ownership or at least part title to the mountain, the prairie, the wood, which helps to beget the greatest safeguard of any country, the feeling of nationality, it is that spirit which forms the foundation for great love of home and country.
Canada, so far as record is concerned, has begun her life as a nation far in advance of most others. There is no plot of slavery on Canada's east coast and it is not so many years ago since the negro fugitive looked across to us as truly "the land of the free." W. Frank Hatheway, writing on Canadian nationality, says: "When we think of home, there are two names—father, mother—and these stand next to Diefy, for in our childhood they were next to God. Even now grown to man's stature, when we know that they are only human beings, trying to guide us rightly, still we look back to the home love and home life of those child days. Canadians must never lose this home love. Our rivers, valleys, mountains and lakes are too grand and beautiful to be forgotten. Our cities are built on such commanding sites that ever will the Canadian revert with love to St. John, Montreal, Quebec and Halifax. True he nature done much to make Canada the home of a reverent, free and patriotic people."

Scotty says:
"Show me the man who cares no more for one place than another and I will show you in the same period one who loves nothing but himself."

LOSING OUR PULPWOOD

(Mail and Empire)
A writer in the Paper Mill of New York refers in the following terms to the drain which United States mills are making upon our pulpwood resources:—

"Most of the mills in northern New York are now using at least some Canadian pulpwood and many of them are getting most of their spruce supply from across the border. They are turning more and more to it with each year, and are saving their spruce from across the border. They are turning the latter in reserve. This fact in itself furnishes an adequate answer to the claims of the New York forester that the State, who would have it that the pulp men are recklessly cutting every spruce in sight through the Adirondacks, hold the latter in reserve. It is necessary only to mention that between five hundred thousand and six hundred thousand cords are annually shipped out of Quebec, the bulk of which goes to mills in the United States. Moreover, the greater amount of this comes to mills in New York state and in New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. The plants of the International Paper Company use a lot of it in their mills in this State, and in New England, and vast quantities are utilized by such concerns as the Benington-Martin Company and the St. Regis Company, as well as many others. The Canadian pulpwood trade grows continually. Meanwhile such concerns as the St. Regis, Benington-Martin and Beningtonville Paper Companies have not only their Adirondacks tracts in reserve, but are conducting scientific forestry experiments upon their property."

From the United States' point of view the conditions described in this quotation are highly satisfactory. That country's eastern pulp and paper industries are kept in flourishing activity and at the same time the remnant of its spruce forest is being conserved. This double blessing flows from Canada's pulpwood lands, from which our neighbors are permitted to draw freely the material required for their mills and are thus enabled to foster the spruce they have left standing on their own lands. When they have out forests devastated they hope to have their own sources of supply so restored by wise forestry practice as to support a considerable paper industry. Not to bring this happy arrangement to an end, but in order to promote the welfare of our own pulp and paper industries. The Dominion government should take action to ensure that the labor and capital employed in the converting of our pulpwood into pulp and paper shall be applied in this country, and not in a foreign country. While the writer quoted above says that between 500,000 and 600,000 cords of pulpwood are imported annually into the United States from Quebec, the United States census returns show that in the last calendar year the imports of spruce alone amounted to 721,322 cords, as against 622,545 cords in 1905. Thus in a single year over neighbors increased their imports of Canadian spruce by practically one hundred thousand cords. This country cannot afford to let its spruce forests be butchered at this rate in order that the pulp and paper-making industries shall be carried on mainly in the United States instead of in Canada.

Mr. Arthur Pierson left yesterday afternoon for England where he has been called, owing to the serious illness of his father.

The Eagle Land Co. on Saturday sold lots 10 and 20 in block 143 to a gentleman from Ontario. We understand the price paid was $1,450.

The police are busily engaged in collecting the dog taxes. The canine with the generous owner has a chance to dodge the assessment machine.

The local lacrosse team will practice every night this week. A full attendance of the members and spectators is requested.

There can be little complaint that the city assessment is not high enough. In deed in some quarters there is a predisposition to think it is a little too lofty. One dealer yesterday sold two lots for $21,100, that are assessed for $1,800.

Saturday evening the Holy Trinity church held their lawn social which was postponed from the previous evening owing to inclement weather. The Strathcona band was in attendance and a large number of citizens turned out to regale themselves with ice cream and cake.

A lawn social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will be held on Dr. Craig's lawn on June 25th. Ice cream and other delicacies will be provided and the band will be in attendance. Admission 10c.

The work on the new round house being rushed along as rapidly as possible. The foundation has been laid on one side and the excavation is completed on the other and front of the site stable. Contractor McDermott is ever seeing the work in person.

It is evident that neither regard for the law nor the feelings of fellow citizens has any hold on some people. That fact was demonstrated strongly when a game of baseball was observed to be in progress yesterday in the West End while people were on their way to church. The indulgence in the great American game is a clear violation of the Lord's Day Act and it is likely that the practice is continued the Act may be called into force.

CHRONICLES.

The housewife who is compelled these days to put on a good fire which, otherwise would be unnecessary, to burn up the family potato peelings is not landing out many bouquets to the framers of the city health by law. She is wondering what she would do if she used gas instead of coal or wood if it were available.

The coat of white wash which the Coal Commission covered the inspector and the Public Works department may be like a historic smile, for it won't come off but we venture a guess that steps will be taken in future by the Alberta Government to prevent a repetition of the horror at the Walter mine along the identical lines which caused the concern of the coroner's jury. It is surprising, too, how many witnesses at the Commissioner's enquiry were not the same as gave evidence at the coroner's inquest. Query did the inspector or the Minister do the summoning of witnesses before the Commissioner? If not who did? It looks a bit as if the present range as though in the matter of Provincial Inspection and regulation of coal mines in Alberta the tail were wagging the dog.

The Emmerson trial is not as interesting as the Thaw trial because no one has dilated on the beauty either of the woman in the case, or the man in the room.

The trenches being dug under the supervision of the public works department of the city council seem to be falling in line with unexpected suddenness.

The delegates at Prince Albert were treated to a reversal of the laws of nature when a Red Deer chain was welded into Scotty Westwood's Link.

INVESTIGATE DEATHS OF INCUBATOR BIRDS

(Special to the Chronicle)
Toronto, June 24.—An investigation is to be held into the death of two babies in the incubator of Dr. St. Charles at St. George's Beach Park.

A DYNAMITE FATALITY

(Special to the Chronicle)
Burnt River, June 24.—Jas. Rennie was killed by an explosion of dynamite here today, and his three sons injured.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION

Ex-mayor K. W. McKenzie was elected first vice-president of the Associated Boards of Trade and in all likelihood will succeed to the throne. As a try out the meeting passed him up a ruling which he decided to base ball upon. Mack would sooner be right than to be president, but when in doubt "Play Ball" is his motto.

The Prince Albert Convention from the standpoint of the entertainment extended to the visitors in a manner. All future assemblies under the same auspices will be judged from the Prince Albert standard.

Secretary Harrison made a magnificent guide for the delegates from his city. He arranged everything and, so included them, that the Edmonton contingent were mistaken along the line for the Prince Albert party, en route to Mikado Land, with George Stodard as the representative of the Royal House conferring the Order of the Rising Sun on all his friends.

The efficient services of secretary E. T. Fisher were recognized in every hand.

B. N. Wallace, next year's secretary helped immensely with the work and the entertainment.

There was no delegate at the convention who was listened to with more pleasure than Mayor Mills of Strathcona. He took an active part in the discussions and gave a good account of himself, the city of which he is the chief magistrate and the Board that sent him.

Dr. L. L. Fuller was a constant attendant at the sessions of the meeting and made an excellent delegate.

Medicine that presented a great hand to draw to in Mayor Cousins, President C. S. Pringle, and secretary John T. Hall.

It was as much on account of their abilities in debate as in their winning ways that they secured the association for next year.

J. W. Cunningham, editor of the Edmonton Journal, who was a delegate from the Alberta Capital, took a deep interest in the convention and a fair share in debates and always added something of his own to the matter in hand. He was personally very popular with the delegates at Prince Albert, on the way there and on the return journey.

President Bradshaw of the Prince Albert Board is in private life an auctioneer and insurance man. He has a winning way that would make a man leave his happy home to buy tin watches if he handled them, but he doesn't.

R. H. Hutchings of Calgary, the retiring president is as genial as he is big. He weighs 255 pounds. Several Edmonton gentlemen, who are en route to attend the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade at Prince Albert, were in the city for a number of hours at the Albert Hotel. The number were Messrs. Fisher, Cunningham and James Weir, formerly commissioner of the board of trade here, who extended the glad hand to many old acquaintances. Last among them might think we had represented ourselves as from Edmonton, by reason of the Capital error, we may say that we registered from Strathcona. We were "among" the Edmonton gentlemen or rather with them and are proud of the association.
